FRANCE RUSSIE CONVERGENCES

Dear friend,

In these times of massive misinformation about Russian intervention in Ukraine, questions arise:

- Who bombed Serbian population?
- Who bombed Arab populations in the Middle East?
- Who dismembered Libya, causing a civil war?

To avoid being another NATO's victim (who's next after Ukraine?), Vladimir Putin, at the cost of a fratricide war, decided to take steps in order to protect Russia. A leader who defends his nation. The USA, with the backing of European politicians, is provoking war in Europe!

The French pay more than €2 a liter of petrol and we will not be able to heat ourselves from next winter. Those who are increasingly wealthy will not suffer from these increases.

What interests President Macron and NATO defend? Not ours!

We therefore support the Russian people and their President, and we condemn these heads of state elected thanks to a notoriety fabricated by the media. Macron, Biden, Johnson, Trudeau, and many others, are not working for their people, but for opaque and bellicose interests that the citizens of NATO countries are paying a high price: the price of bloodshed (civilians and soldiers)!

Where will these heads of state and all their warring supporters be if a fratricidal war should break out? Certainly not on the front line...

So join us in defending the truth in a rally in support of the Russian people, who for too long have endured mockery, unjust sanctions and ongoing hostility regardless of the model of government that runs the country.

For the past 200 years, US foreign policy has operated under the Monroe Doctrine, which gives this country the right to intervene in any nation that might thwart its interests. This doctrine is the basis of NATO. The pretext for new sanctions will always be found or simply invented, regardless of the situation in Ukraine.

The objective will always be the same: to stifle the development of Russia or countries that oppose the American Empire.

But make no mistake, the American people are not our enemy, but it really is time to get out of NATO!

YES, TO PEACE, NO TO NATO
